ARTICLE V

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

5.01 Governance

Agile Charities shall be governed by its Board of Directors, who will be responsible for voting themselves into the office of Director in the manner described below in Article VI, Membership and Governance.

5.02 Initial Directors

The initial Director of the corporation shall be John Dennis Bragg, Jr., a citizen of the United States of America and a resident of Henrico County, Virginia.

ARTICLE VI

MEMBERSHIP AND GOVERNANCE

6.01 Membership

Agile Charities shall have no members. The management of the affairs of the corporation shall be vested in a Board of Directors, as defined in the corporation's bylaws and these Articles of Incorporation as to elections.

6.02 Director Elections

- The Board of Directors are responsible for electing themselves into office.
- The majority of Directors on the Board of Directors chooses the Chairman of the Board by majority vote.
- Four additional Directors will be elected directly by the initial Director, Dennis Bragg to the Board of Directors. The terms of office will be staggered.
- The Chief Executive Officer (CEO) will always be an ex officio voting member of the Board of Directors, unless a three quarters majority Director's vote, including only non ex officio Directors of the Board, votes to remove the Chief Executive Officer as a Director .on the Board.
- Should the CEO be removed by a three quarter or greater Director vote the board must elect another Director to a will have a term of 1 year and will be in Class I board term.
- The board of Directors will always be an odd number, from an initial 1, to 3 and up, but not to exceed 15 Directors.
- The Directors are initially appointed, and thereafter, elect their successors to the Board of Directors by majority vote on a staggered yearly basis of one-third of board positions per year.
- Any Director can be removed at any time by a two thirds or greater majority vote of the board of Directors.
- The first and second Director appointed by the initial Director will have a term of 3 years and will be in Class III board term.
- The third and fourth Directors appointed by the initial Director will have a term of 2 years and be in Class II board term.
- The sixth and seventh Directors, if added, will be elected by the full board of five Directors and will have a term of office for 1 year and be in Class I.
- The eighth and ninth Directors, if added, will be elected by the full board of seven Directors and will have a term of office for 3 years and be in Class III board term.

- The tenth and eleventh Directors, if added, will be elected by the full board of nine Directors and will have a term of office for 2 years and be in Class II board term.
- The twelfth and thirteenth Directors, if added, will be elected by the full board of eleven Directors and will have a term of office for 1 year and be in Class I board term.
- The fourteenth and fifteenth Directors, if added, will be elected by the full board of thirteen Directors and will have a term of office for 3 years and be in Class III board term.
- Each Director facing election in their Class I, II, or III will thereafter be elected for a 2 year term of office on the Board of Directors. This method allows for approximately one board vote each year that encompasses approximately one third of the non ex officio Directors on the Board.
- Directors running for a second consecutive term must win a three quarters majority vote from the Directors and this vote will be confidential.
- No non ex officio Director may serve more than two consecutive terms, except in the case of a unanimous vote by the entire current Directors to keep them as a Director, and this vote shall be confidential.
- Directors, having left the board, must wait a minimum of one year before being elected back onto the Board of Directors. This vote will be confidential and must be by a three quarters or greater majority vote of Directors.

6.03 Board of Director Decisions

Board of Director decision making will be decided by consensus, but if necessary as a last resort, the majority vote of the board approves all decisions not otherwise designated, such as Director Elections. This method of Board decision making fits the culture of Agile Charities' decision to adapt the Agile Scrum methodology for decisions.

Rational: Unlike parliamentary procedure, which results in an up-or-down, yes-or-no vote, the consensus process allows for, and encourages, a continuum of responses. At one end is strong endorsement: "Great idea. I love it!" At the other end is strong disagreement: "It's a horrible idea, and I'll do everything I can to block it."

The consensus spectrum allows for more subtle reactions: "I like it pretty well" to "I don't like it, but I can live with it" to "I disagree, but if you're all in favor, I won't stand in the way." This is an intuitive way to make decisions, since it reflects how most of us make shared choices in our daily lives.

In the traditional consensus model, one person has the power to block the decision if they strongly disagree. If the board is unable to create a compromise to satisfy the blocker, they may call for a majority vote as a last resort. This is sometimes known as "modified consensus."

The use of consensus decision making is often time consuming and requires patience and persistence. On the other hand, it creates a more informal and equitable environment where everyone's voice is valued. This, from an organization that prides itself on use of the bottom up scrum methodology, is an excellent trade-off.

6.04 Non-voting affiliates

The Board of Directors may approve classes of non-voting affiliates with rights, privileges, and obligations established by the board. Affiliates may be individuals, businesses, and other organizations that seek to support the mission of the corporation. The board, a designated committee of the board, or any duly elected officer in accordance with board policy, shall have authority to admit any individual or organization as an affiliate, to recognize representatives of affiliates, and to make determinations as to affiliate' rights, privileges, and obligations.

At no time shall affiliate information be shared with or sold to other organizations or groups without the affiliate's consent. At the discretion of the Board of Directors, affiliates may be given endorsement, recognition and media coverage at fundraising activities, clinics, other events or at the corporation website. Affiliates have no voting rights, and are not members of the corporation.

ARTICLE VII

COMPENSATION

7.01 Board Compensation

The Board of Directors are all volunteers and are not compensated, excluding reasonable reimbursement of, or allowance of expenses actually incurred, in the performance of their duties. Section 501(c) (3) contains excess benefits rules, which bar board directors and officers from profiting from their positions within a nonprofit organization. Agile Charities will follow these federal rules and Virginia State law as to compensation for Board Directors.

Should a Board Director, other than the ex officio CEO, wish to be paid for services they must resign from the Board.

7.02 CEO Compensation

The CEO's pay, no matter how large Agile Charities grows, cannot exceed 15 times the average wages paid to a FTE of 1.0 equivalent worker at Agile Charities. This is following the rough guidelines set by Peter Drucker back in 2008. Should an organization widen the pay much beyond 25 times the equivalent FTE of 1.0 equivalent worker, Drucker asserted, it makes it difficult to foster the kind of teamwork that most businesses require to succeed.” Rick Wartzman, director of the Drucker Institute, explained this assertion in an article for BusinessWeek in 2008 and, more recently, in a letter to the SEC. Agile Charities plans on following these top-stops for executive pay no matter how large our organization grows.

7.03 Arms-Length CEO Compensation

The CEO, when a member of the Board, will refrain from discussions and votes about his or her own CEO pay package. Also, a majority of those Directors voting on the package cannot have any relation to him or her, by blood, marriage or outside business.

ARTICLE VIII

ORGANIZATION’S MISSION FOCUS

8.01 Agile Charities Focus

Agile Charities does not focus on or base our strategy on making money, nor do we make it the center of our plans or even start our planning with financial returns in mind. We start with the performance of our mission as set forth by ARTICLE III, 3.01 Mission and Purpose. The requirements of our mission are always foremost in our minds and is the primary focus of our actions.

ARTICLE IX

AMENDMENTS

9.01 Amendments

Any amendment to the Articles of Incorporation may be adopted by approval of two-thirds (2/3) of the Board of Directors.
